

From dimensions given in Genesis, the 17th-century Jesuit Athanasius Kircher devised this floor plan of the ark. Kircher envisioned three decks, each containing 300 stalls.